New, Small Magnetic Parts Tray
Rounds Out Master Magnetics' Offerings

Castle Rock, Colo., Oct. 22, 2015 - Master Magnetics, Inc. (The Magnet Source®) announced the addition of a new, smaller magnetic parts tray to expand their parts tray family to four.

The new three inch tray is perfectly sized to fit into compact areas, while corralling loose nuts, screws and other small metal items while keeping them securely in reach. It's an ideal tool for mechanics, craftsmen and hobbyists.

These smooth stainless steel trays use powerful rubber-coated ceramic magnets at the base to secure the tray to any metal surface while firmly holding important metal pieces in the tray.

- Works in any position - flat, sideways or upside down
- Hold small ferrous metal parts, nails, screws, paper clips, pins, and much more
- Use to hold small parts during assembly and disassembly
- Non-scratch, rubber coated magnet protects painted surfaces

Now available in FOUR sizes:
