Master Magnetics Introduces New 41-inch Long Magnetic Retrieving Batons

Extra-long reach makes tool ideal for machining clean-up

Castle Rock, CO June 1, 2015 - Master Magnetics, Inc. (The Magnet Source®) announced another new product addition to their line of Magnetic Retrieving Batons. The new 41-inch model joins three other models in this popular product category.

Magnetic Retrieving Batons are innovative and powerful tools to remove fine metallic filings, turnings or shavings (also known as swarf) created by cutting tools and machinery from wet or dry environments. Magnetic Retrieving Batons, with non-corrosive, stainless steel housing are:

- Ideal for removing swarf and metal turnings from around drill tables and saws.
- Designed to work in wet or dry environments.
- Constructed with neodymium, or rare earth, magnets to maximize holding power.

The unique shape allows for easy pickup near walls, corners, and many other hard-to-reach places. Engineered with durable, non-corrosive stainless steel housing for use in liquids.

Quick Release

Once metal debris is collected, a simple pull of the handle releases even the smallest shavings into a recycle bin or trash can. A movable debris guard helps to shield hands from any sharp debris and keeps swarf from following magnets up the tube when releasing collected debris.

Now available in four models:

RHS01 - 16" long x 1.0" diameter, MSRP $55.00.

RHS02 - 16" long x 1.0" diameter, with easy-grip handle and hang hook, MSRP $60.00.

RHS03 - 39" long x 1/2" diameter, with easy-grip handle and hang hook, MSRP $50.00.

RHS04 - 41" long x 1" diameter, with easy-grip handle and hang hook, MSRP $98.00.

The new 41" Retrieving Baton is ideal for when an extended reach is needed.
